(International News Service)
SOLDIN, Brandenburg
Province, Germany, July 17.—Captain Stephen Darius and Stanley T. Girenas, native Lithuanian residents of Chicago who set out from New York Saturday morning to fly non-stop to Annas, Lithuania, were found dead in a woods near here today with their wrecked plane.

The pair had spanned the ocean successfully despite the bad weather into which they had headed, but came to grief just a few hours from their goal at a spot approximately 4,000 miles from Floyd Bennett field, their starting point.

Lack Of Fuel Crash Cause.
Lack of fuel appeared to be the only reason for the crash. It appeared their fuel tanks were empty.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A new detour is listed this week on the Detour map of the State Highway Department. This is located between Grove City and Slippery Rock. The detour is via Har-rsville, ten miles in extent over an improved road.

Residents of the East Side and Croton district heard the welcome sound of the Cement plant whistle again this morning.

In spite of the circus here Saturday—circuses almost invariably bring rain—it just sprinkled in the city. Heavy downpours passed around the city proper both Saturday and Sunday.

While there were storms of some severity in nearby districts over the week-end, the rainfall in New Castle was not very heavy.

A big tri-motored plane, soared over the city late last evening, approaching from the northeast, and headed south after sighting the Shenango and Mahoning river valley. It appeared to be a passenger carrying ship, and may have been forced off its course by storms.

By Announcing Birth Of Baby While In Paris

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Setting at rest rumors that a Mexican divorce was contemplated David Hutton, Jr., one-time choir leader of Angelus Temple, announced he would file suit here today to divorce Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton,
the evangelist.

"Married life for me has been no bed of roses," Hutton said.
He revealed that Attorney Jerome
J. Mayo had drawn up the divorce complaint and that among other allegations was the charge that Mrs. Hutton caused him humiliation and embarrassment by "allowing intimate details of their married life to be publicly discussed."

Hutton also will assert that Mrs.
Hutton made him and his married life "ridiculous by perpetrating a hoax as to the birth of a baby, when in fact no baby was born."

Sails For Home.

LE HAVRE, France, July 17.—Mrs.
Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton,
Los Angeles evangelist, and her daughter, Mrs. Roberta Smyth, sailed for the United States yesterday aboard the steamer City of Havre, enroute for Baltimore. International News Service learned today.

The evangelist, who recently submitted to an operation in a Paris hospital, slipped away from Paris without saying farewell to her friends. She purchased her steamer tickets here in the name of "Miss

Cement Plant Resumes Under New Code Plan

Four Operating Turns Of Six Hours Each Are Instituted

FORTY NEW MEN
ADDED TO FORCE

New Working Hours Are Established For Various Shifts At Plant

Working under the new code for the cement industry which has been presented, the Lehigh Portland Cement Company plant resumed operations at seven o'clock today after an idleness that has existed since last December. All men who were at work in December were recalled and in addition, about 40 new employees were hired.

Under the provisions of the code the cement industry works on a 42 hour per week basis, which means six hours per day, seven days per week for the Lehigh plant. This makes it necessary to operate the plant in four shifts of six hours each. The first shift starts at seven o'clock in the morning and works

Suit Against Mellon And Mills Is Dismissed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 17.—A $220-000,000 suit alleging income tax evasions by former Secretaries of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and Ogden L. Mills and other former treasury officials was dismissed today by Justice James M. Proctor in the District of Columbia supreme court.

The suit was filed by David A. Olson, a former senate investigator, under a statute permitting recovery of twice the amount of taxes owed to the government.

Proctor sustained a demurrer by attorneys for the group, declaring that Olson's charges were vague and inaccurate and failed to make out a good cause of action.

Harriman Is Again Missing

Indicted Banker Vanishes Again; Bent On Suicide

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 17.—Joseph W.
Harriman, indicted banker, vanished again today—apparently bent on suicide.

At 10 o'clock this morning he left the Regents Nursing Home at 115 East 61st street, telling his nurse he would be back in a few minutes.
Later it was found that he boarded a cab in front of the nursing home and ordered the driver to take him to the Fort Lee Ferry.

His action recalled testimony by Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, mental expert, that Harriman had frequently spoken of a desire to go to New Jersey to "get a gun." It was assumed that he wanted to use the gun to destroy himself.

Local police and department of justice operatives immediately set out on Harriman's trail. U. S. District Attorney Medalle flashed word to the New Jersey authorities, and men were hurried to the ferry landing on that side of the river in an effort to head the banker off.

Eighteen Thousand Young Ring Neck Pheasants At Jordan Game Farm Now

Eighteen thousand young ring neck pheasants are attracting a lot of visitors to the Jordan State Game Farm these days, and visitors get a chance to see the game bird from hatching to maturity, as a large batch of peeps were hatched out on Sunday and are now in the brooding houses that dot the side of one of the slope on the farm.

This is the first year the incubator system of hatching pheasants has been tried and the results thus far, according to M. V. Warfel, superintendent, are slightly in excess of the results of last year with hens being used. The brooders look like silver mushrooms sticking out of the ground, or a collection of war time powder magazines. Here the peeps are kept until they are sufficiently developed to permit their being put in wire pens.

Wage Increases To Benefit Thousands In Lawrence County

Potential purchasing power in Lawrence county took a long step forward over the week end with the announcement that the code for the steel industry and its allied branches had been presented, and the various steel company announcements of a 15 per cent increase in wages.

No official announcement has been received by D. S. Pyle, general manager of the Shenango and New Castle Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, the Shelby plant of the National Tube Company, in Ellwood City, and the G.
W. Johnson Limestone Company quarries in Hillsville.

Under the code which was presented to General Hugh Johnson, on Saturday, by Robert P. Lamont, president of the Iron and Steel Institute, no specific control of output is thought necessary because the industry feels that the elimination of unfair practices will automatically correct any over production.

The labor rate provided in the code presented provides a maximum of 40 hours per week, no child labor, a minimum of 25 cents per hour in the Southern territory and 40 cents per hour in the Pittsburgh and Youngstown districts for common labor. All other classes of employees aside from common labor will receive a 15 per cent increase over their present rate of wage.

Vote Tomorrow.
Alabama and Arkansas vote tomorrow on ratification of the new 21st amendment, which would strike national prohibition from the federal constitution. Tennessee votes Thursday.

The president has incorporated prohibition repeal in his economic recovery program. He would use the revenue from federal taxes on distilled alcoholic beverages to finance the national construction program.

He has the power to revoke the special taxes, levied by his "honeymoon" congress to finance the recovery program, as soon as prohibition is repealed.

Administration leaders have taken charge of the repeal drive for the purpose of carrying out the Democratic platform pledge. They have been tremendously active in the south in the last few weeks, urging local Democratic leaders to stand by the party platform. The president himself pointed the way with his national appeal for ratification of the repeal amendment.

He was bound for Novosibirsk, Si-

PUSHING WORK ON PYMATUNING HIGHWAY

Immense Fill Near Completion

Neshannock Falls Stone Is Being Put In Place Along Roadway

MANY VISITORS AT PYMATUNING

Rapidly, the new highway from Espsville to Andover, O., is being constructed across the Pymatuning dam, and apparently the enormous fill necessary for the new road is nearly completed. As rapidly as possible, the rip-rap stone from the Neshannock quarries is being laid up on the sides of the highway to prevent wash when the lake is filled.

The old course of the highway has been changed and instead of jogging to the right near where the camp was located in Espsville while the clearance was going on, the highway cuts straight across in an air line. The course of the Shenango river has been changed also, the channel being diverted at the bridge separating Pennsylvania and Ohio and runs about three-eighths of a mile laterally into Pennsylvania. Here it is turned again to go under the high bridge which was built as a part of the highway construction.

Immense Fill

Where the earth for the fill has been taken out of the dam bed are huge holes that have become filled with water and immense pools have been formed. The earth has been dragged over to the fill and seems to be nearly all completed with the exception of several hundred yards on the Ohio side. In length the highway is 2 1/2 miles as it crosses the dam and when completed and the lake is filled will give Pennsylvania a highway that will be a vast pocket edition of the famous seaway at Key West, Fla.

The stone from the Neshannock quarries shows to much better advantage in the form of rip-rapping than it does in the quarries. Cut in huge slabs 24 inches thick it is providing a stone coating for an earth fill that will attract tourists from many states.

Standing on the new bridge high above the level of the dam one gets a picture just now that will not be possible when the water is impounded. Thousands of acres unfold before the eye, stripped of shrubbery and trees, and as level as an athletic stadium. One can easily imagine a day when Lake Erie or some other lake filled the entire area up there. This point, the new bridge over the highway is easily the most advantageous spot in the whole Pymatuning development, although to get to it one must drive over a newly filled road that is uneven.

Dam Site Attracts

The dam site itself is attracting thousands of visitors just now. The rip-rapping inside the dam and along the course of the emergency outlet has been completed, the slurry down to the outlet of the dam has been completed, and the outside bank of the dam sown up in rye.

The gate house is almost up as high as it will be built and the steel screens are installed on the dam site. The gate house is of stone, in harmony with the rip-rapping work and looks like a lodge at the edge of some vast estate.

Just now there is little water passing through the outlet gates of the dam. On Sunday afternoon the trickle was hardly heavy enough to carry a sheet of paper along, and little water is impounded in the dam bed. The Shenango river crawls along in its channel, no relation apparently of the turgid flood that comes tumbling down every spring.

Across the top of the dam site a highway has been completed, with four foot stone walls lining each side to prevent cars from slipping over. Work on the new highway which will connect with this highway across the top of the dam is not visible from the Turnerville end as yet.

EIGHTEEN THOUSAND YOUNG PHEASANTS AT GAM FARM NOW

which means that the rise in wheat prices will mean little to him. In addition, the sowing of the fields is a good thing for the pheasants who will be turned in later on to scratch for themselves and enjoy the catch of clover that is coming on, back of the wheat stubble.

Improvements are being made yearly at the game farm and today it looks better than it has ever looked since its inception. The grounds around the houses at the entrance are well kept, the pool at the foot of the hill has been improved in appearance and the roadway near the farm has been improved. If something could be done to improve the roads leading in from Harlansburg, and the Butler road, access to the farm would be easier for tourists.

Later on in the summer the young birds will be shipped out to fend for themselves in the forests of Pennsylvania and many a hunter this fall will take home a brace of ring neck pheasants because of the work of the employees of the Jordan Game Farm.

ITALIAN CLUB HAS OUTING AT FARM

New City Group Spends Sunday Near East Brook— Crowd Numbers 50

A crowd of 50 local residents enjoyed the first annual outing of the Veteran Italian-American Citizens Club of New Castle at the farm of Frank DeSalvo, near East Brook, on Sunday.

Organized June 1 with 17 charter members, the club membership rapidly mounted to 51, and on Sunday every member with the exception of one or two were present to share the hospitality of the DeSalvo family. The farm was patriotically decorated for the event.

Donato Prioletti, general chairman of arrangements, saw to it that the picnicers had two delicious meals to enjoy and in between those introduced talented entertainers, who kept the participants in a merry mood. The club members and friends provided the entertainment.

A speaking program, during which Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts, Mrs. Donato Prioletti and John Cassachia brought interesting messages, featured. Entertainers included Louis Berabie, Andy Prioletti, Michael Oea and Donato Prioletti. The latter was also chief for the day.

At the noon dinner and evening meal a group of younger folk, including Rose Antonette DeSalvo, Mrs. John DeSalvo, the Misses Ida and Ann Prioletti, Mrs. John Liner, and Mrs. Arthur Prioletti, served.

With its objective "a better New Castle", among other things, the new club includes Italians who are at least 50 years of age, are American citizens, have lived in New Castle 25 years and who are interested in the development of a wholesome community life.

until one in the afternoon. The second shift works from one to seven p. m., the third from seven p. m. to one a. m., and the fourth shift from one a. m. to seven a. m.

Start Slowly For the first few hours of the day the plant worked rather slowly in order to get the kilns heated and the machinery stepped up to its normal operating speed. At noon the stacks were belching smoke, the dust collector was capturing practically all of the cement dust, and the slag chain was carrying out the red hot slag to the dump outside.

The resumption of the Lehigh Portland Cement company is a matter of satisfaction to the plant manager W. H. Kleckner and to the entire city at large. It means pay envelopes, buying power for many who have needed relief, work for idle hands, and busier cash registers for the merchants of the city.

No wage scale has been announced for the cement industry and for a day or two this will not be known here. It is presumed that the code will provide for a fair labor rate, taking into consideration the six hour day which is in force.

Youth Killed By Auto Truck

Accident Occurs On Butler Road Near Portersville Saturday Evening

Melvin Owens, 14, son of Mrs. D. J. Owens of 408 Alpine avenue, Pittsburgh, was killed Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock when he fell from a Cleveland-New York truck and suffered a fractured skull when the wheels passed over his head.

With Bob Smith, Bernard O'Neill and Joseph Hadesy, three classmates of Owens in Lattimore junior high school, he had been camping on the Slippery Rock creek since last Wednesday. For some reason the boys decided to come over to Portersville on Saturday afternoon and as the truck approached the Ridgeview service station they all attempted to get on, Owens and Smith on one side and O'Neill and Hadesy on the other.

Companion Warns Him

Smith warned Owens that he was close to the wheel and as he did so a jolt of the truck threw the boy under the wheels. The driver did not know the boys were on the truck and pulled into the Ridgeview station unaware of the accident. The truck driver went back and gathered the prostrate form of Owens up and took him to a physician's office in Portersville.

The boy's mother was called in Pittsburgh and she asked that he be sent home in an ambulance. Before the ambulance arrived he was dead. The four boys had been together in the Lattimore junior high school for several years and were to enter Allegheny high school in the fall.

AUTO ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL TO REV. F. W. TYLER

Bell, apprehended several hours after the accident, having driven on and failing to stop, is being held by the police authorities and a charge will be made against him.

Accident on Moravia St.

The accident occurred in the vicinity of the New Castle Feed company place of business on Moravia street, as Rev. Tyler, crossing the street, was struck by the car driven by Bell, which was enroute south on Moravia street at a high rate of speed. Bell speeded up and kept on going but sufficient clues had been secured to result in his apprehension in the early afternoon. All efforts at the identification of the injured man proved of no avail, until members of the Tyler family, alarmed by his failure to return home in the late afternoon, saw the item in The News about the accident and went to the New Castle hospital between 5 and 6 o'clock, where Mrs. Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thorn, son-in-law and daughter, established the identity of the injured man.

Take Driver Into Custody

Detective John Young and Officer Harry Flinner answered the call to the accident scene and took the injured man to the hospital. They learned that the car, which bore Pennsylvania license 72537, had been driven by Curtis Bell, Negro, of Division street, and traced him to the Sutton service station, West Washington street and Atlantic avenue, where they found him engaged as a car washer. They took him into custody. The car he was driving at the time of the accident was the property of M. R. Hornung of 140 Sheridan avenue, which he had been taking to and from the service station for work in connection with the service of his place of employment.

Bell when arraigned before Mayor Charles B. Mayne claimed he did not see Rev. Tyler or know that there had been an accident. He also claimed that he had another negro in the car with him, whom he was taking to Mahoning avenue. He was unable to tell the name of this negro, claiming him to have been a stranger to him.

Following the death of Rev. Tyler, Coroner Orville Potter was notified and viewed the body. He also directed the police to hold Bell. Bell is being held pending the decision as to what will be done in the matter.

Rev. Frank William Tyler had been a resident of this city for the past 11 years, coming here from Alliance, O. He was widely known and highly respected. He was in the active ministry prior to coming to this city. In recent years he had been assisting with the work of the City Mission and the Salvation Army. He was the teacher of a large adult Bible class at the City Mission. He resided at 407 Boyles avenue.

Born In Ohio

He was born at Little Mount, O., March 21, 1877, and was 56 years of age. He was the son of George and Jenelyn Searle Tyler. He was married to Mae Stroup. He was a member of the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church.

Rev. Tyler is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mae Stroup Tyler, two daughters, Mrs. Leila Miller of Salem, O., and Mrs. Jenelyn Thorn at home, also one granddaughter, Marceda Mae Miller.

The family will be at the Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock to meet their friends.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, July 18, at 2 p. m., at the Boyd funeral home, with Rev. H. J. Sutton of the Maitland Memorial P. M. church and Rev. D. L. Ferguson of the Highland U. P. church in charge.

An information, charging Bell with involuntary manslaughter has been filed before Alderman O. H. P. Green, by Chief of Police John Haven, and a hearing will be held in the case Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

At the same time, Coroner Orville Potter will hold an inquest in the case, a joint hearing being planned.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 17.—Miss Charlotte E. Carr, whose activities Dr. A. M. Northrup blamed for the termination of his services as secretary of labor and industry, today was named to succeed him.

She is the second woman to join the cabinet of Gov. Gifford Pinchot. Mrs. Alice I. Liveright, secretary of welfare, is the other.

Dr. Northrup in announcing his resignation blamed Miss Carr for fomenting industrial strikes in Pennsylvania and cited the marked increase in labor troubles since her connection with the department.

amounting to 15 per cent, sent the purchasing power of approximately 500,000 workers soaring upward, bringing cheer alike to strawboss and worker, housewife and merchant.

The fattened pay envelopes will go to 30,000 workers in plants of the Carnegie Steel Company, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel; other thousands in American Sheet and Tin Plate; 3,500 in the Monessen and Allenport plants of the Pittsburgh Steel Company; 3,000 in the Allegheny Steel Company at Brackenridge plant; 15,000 in West Virginia and Ohio plants of the National Steel Company, and many thousands of others in steel plants throughout the country.

Other independent producers were expected to make similar wage increase announcements before the end of the week.

Steel capacity, meanwhile, continued to hum along at a rapid rate, now ranging at about 60 per cent of capacity as against a 14 per cent mark of a few months ago.

TWO LITHUANIAN FLIERS FOUND DEAD; CRASH IN GERMANY

and that they had been aiming at a forced landing in a wide meadow only 100 yards beyond the thick woods into which they crashed.

It was indicated the flyers had crashed from a great height and that both were killed instantly. They were identified by maps, charts, and Lithuanian newspapers found in their plane.

The Lithuanians were last sighted over Berlinchen, a suburb of Soldin, shortly after midnight, therefore it was presumed they crashed about 1:00 a. m. at the time they were flying extremely low, lighting up a local factory with their powerful searchlight.

The plane swept a big clearing among the pines of the woods, called "The City Forest," indicating it must have crashed with terrific force.

Ship Complete Wreck. The ship was a complete wreck. The motor and propeller were thrown a considerable distance and debris was strewn far and wide.

The broad meadow, lying but a short distance away from the wreck, was mute evidence that the two flyers probably had come within a few yards of saving their lives in a landing there.

The body of one of the men was crammed into the cockpit, while that of the other lay aside the wrecked ship, a flashlight still burning 'n his pocket.

The wreck was first discovered at about 5:00 o'clock this morning (midnight E. D. T.) by a peasant woman picking berries. It lay about four miles south of the city. News of the tragedy travelled slowly, however, until officials were notified later in the day.

FOR A MILLION NEW JOBS BY OCTOBER

SECRETARY ICKES, in charge of Public Works Administration, gives a detailed explanation of how $115,513,610 is to be distributed as a first step in the program to "create a million new jobs by October first."

This sum brings to $753,513,610 the total allocated from the $3,300,000,000 fund made available less than thirty days ago. These amounts are so vast that it is not easy for the average man to comprehend them. The skeptical-minded may be reminded of sublime optimism, but it stands to reason that the spending of over three billions of money in public works is bound to create employment for a large number of men who are now jobless.

The new allotment gives $50,000,000 for roads in parks, forests and Indian Reservations; over $64,000,000 for Federal works and $952,068 for municipal water and sewer plants.

It will be conceded that these municipal improvements are a good investment, aside from the fact that they will give employment to men in every section of the country.

Secretary Ickes says "a vast number of additional projects" are still pending before the Public Works Board, as only the non-controversial have been acted upon. The vastness of some of the schemes may be understood when it is stated that $38,000,000 goes for the Boulder Canyon project, and that the International Boundary Commissions have been given $1,528,000 for straightening the Rio Grande and controlling its flow. It is estimated that the $64,000,000 for public works alone will give a year's employment to thousands of men in every state in the union and in each of our island possessions.

Business is already on the upturn in most sections of the country; and when this flood of money starts fresh projects the effect is bound to be highly stimulating. Some conservative men are wondering how it all is going to work out; but we have started on a series of startling experiments and we can not turn back, even if we desired to do so, which would probably be farthest from the thoughts of the majority.

JOB-SEEKERS WARNED

Reviving business activities are likely to cause many persons to "hit the road" seeking employment.

Work naturally becomes available in some communities before it does in others. It should be remembered, however, that virtually every community has in its own large numbers of unemployed. The latter are on the ground. When any new jobs are thrown open, they will get them.

There are thousands of college and high school graduates now seeking work. If it is not immediately available in their home towns, many of them will seek it in other towns and cities. New York, with its glamour of wealth, is likely to become the goal of many. This possibility has caused the New York welfare council to issue a warning against this course.

"Unless you have friends or relatives here, an assured job or money enough to last a year, don't come to New York," it says.

The metropolises already is filled with thousands of idle men and women.

The New York warning is not applicable alone to that city. It should have a general application. The man wanting a job now would do well to remain in his own community, unless he has a definite promise or prospects in another town. Business generally is picking up, and eventually, it is to be hoped, the improvement will extend to all communities, when plenty of jobs will be available.

Until then, aimless wandering in search of work will continue to be a hazardous undertaking.

FLOOD-RIDDEN CHINA

China again is engulfed in battling one of its ancient enemies. Millions of lives are endangered by waters of the Hwang and the Yangtze rivers which have left their banks and the unending cities and countryside. Crowds pack the temples to pray and burn incense, and in some places Buddhas are hauled through the streets to permit those unable to enter the temples to intercede for preservation from the rising waters.

Flood and famine long have preyed at irregular intervals on this unhappy country. It is almost a rare occurrence for the people not to be fighting one or the other of these or seeking to check foreign aggression.

The number of lives lost in floods and famines runs high into the millions. Dykes have been constructed along the streams given to overflowing their banks with disastrous results, but neither these nor their gods have saved the people from brought to bear upon the problem might prove effective in conquering the flood peril, but this remains to be tried. The people seem satisfied to place their trust in dykes and prayers.

If the country ever becomes united under a stable government, flood-control probably will be tackled as the major domestic problem. It is not to be believed that the Chinese will be content forever to remain in peril of untamed rivers.

NEWSPAPER ADS FIRST

Last year, 432 national advertisers spent $116,200,000 in newspaper space, $52,301,139 in magazines, and $25,321,000 in radio broadcasts. Of 342 national concerns using newspaper ads, 150 also used magazines and 111 used radio. The newspapers' share of total advertising expenditures by the automobile and truck industry was 82.4 per cent. It ranged from 63.8 per cent in the field of soft drink advertising to 92.7 per cent for railroads.

Since advertisers spend where they get results, it is obvious that daily newspapers surpass all other methods of reaching the attention of the consuming public.

If they are so important to the national advertisers, it stands to reason they are proportionately important to local concerns seeking patronage of the people of their own communities.

MISERY, POLITENESS, GOOD RESOLUTIONS

Are you polite? Can you do the self-forgetting thing? . . . A doctor told me that once, in a hospital delivery room, while she was helping another woman to bring a child into the world—and the mother was suffering agonies—she looked up at the doctor and said, "You look terribly tired doctor. You ought to go somewhere and get some sleep. I can stand this for a few more hours, and you come back in the morning and I'll have the baby then."

Can you imagine a man being so polite, in pain? . . . I can, but only if I try very hard.

Do you know the story of the waiting father who paced up and down, up and down, in the hall, worried, suffering, haggard and moaning, "I hope it's a girl, I hope it's a girl—then she'll never have to go through what I'm going through now!"

Misery, they say, loves company. . . But I've yet to see that proved. The miserable one may love company but only the company of the miserable, and then only so that they may swap com- rations of their misery. . . If the miserable fellow falls into the company of the gay and the optimistic then he hates all humanity from the depths of his heart and flees from it to the depths of some far and lonely cactus thicket.

If you want to change your ways, make a public announcement of your good resolution. Put yourself on record. . . Then if you fail, you are condemned as a weak fellow whose backbone is formed of putty and rubber. . . But if you promise only yourself, you can easily explain away your failure. It wasn't your fault at all, not at all.

I heard a young fellow say: "I intend to live my own life."

I hope he does. I know he will. . . Because, in fact, you cannot live any other life than your own. If you try, you will mess it up.

WAS HE CRAZY?

Uncontrolled inflation became a terror in Germany after the War. A story is told of a German soldier who was committed to an asylum in 1919, after he had lost most of his possessions.

When he was discharged from the asylum, all he had left was a 20-mark gold piece.

He engaged a taxicab to drive him to Berlin and when he arrived there he tendered the driver the 20-mark gold piece and received in change 640,000 paper marks.

"Drive me back to the asylum," he ordered.

AN INSINCERE FRIEND

Some of your friends have had serious financial reverses.

You avoid them, fearing they may ask for a loan, or some other favor. Because of reticence on their part you may think they do not represent what they did once, and you don't want your more favored friends to get the idea that you are in their class.

Small potatoes.

Holding such ideas, you are not a big man but a small one.

You must have the conviction that your own hold on the favored few is decidedly insecure.

You are not boss of your own destiny.

Others are controlling your life, your actions, your choice of friends.

You would cast aside tried and true friends because of financial reverses.

You must have a great lack of sincerity in your make-up.

If those whom you avoid have a proper conception of what constitutes friendship—worthy friendship—they will be glad to know just how shallow are your feelings and they will know how to catalogue you.

It may be a good thing for former friends to have found you out.

An insincere friend is worse than an avowed enemy.

Safe Driving

"Hint"

By The National Safety Council

Most drivers have gone through that annoying and sometimes dangerous experience of having their motors die and leave them stranded in the middle of traffic. A thousand horns honk, the policeman yells, and the driver gets panicky.

Don't get out into the line of traffic until the motor has warmed up enough so that it will idle easily. On a cold morning, if you are afraid the motor may die, run slowly in second gear until it warms up.

A good, safe start may save you from a sudden and unexpected finish.

Propaganda Causes Doubts As Russian Trade Is Offered

Americans Attracted By Prospects Of Increased Foreign Market, But Are Inclined To Fix Conditions For Recognition Of Moscow

National discussion of the prospects of increased trade with Russia is accompanied by predictions that recognition of the Soviet government will be seriously considered. Obstacles to political action still center around the old debt and Communist propaganda. In view of debt relations with other European countries, the question of obligations is not stressed, but many citizens hold that political activity of the Moscow government is a serious obstacle.

Upholding the idea of "a friendly hand" to Russia, the NEWARK EVENING NEWS argues "it never was any business of ours what form of government or what type of economic organizations the great Russian people elected to live under. If there was excuse for our hands-off policy in the former militant insistence of the ruling powers in that country upon a world Communist revolution, that excuse has been practically destroyed by the concentration of these powers, in their latter custodianship, upon Russia's industrial development."

Representative of the rigid opposition of those who fail to approve of the international relations of the present Russian government is the stand taken by the NASHVILLE BANNER in the statement: "The general facts are well within public knowledge. It is known that the Union is a land which recognizes no law of God or man except which is promulgated and permitted by the autocracy of anarchy which finds its expression in the rule of Stalin and the Third Internationale which with ramifications in every land is endeavoring to destroy all form of government, all social and political order, to uproot every religion, to banish individual liberty and to usurp every institution that is nurtured by enlightened, modern and Christian civilization. It is seen and known to be, the same outlaw nation that it has been from the day that Bolshevism banished the autocracy of a Czar and substituted a reign even more devastating and ruthless."

Briefly commenting on the subject, the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN REVIEW offers the somewhat objective summary of its vi s of the situation: "Advocating our recognition of Soviet Russia, Senator Norris said stingingly the other day that the Soviet government never has defaulted on a single obligation while all but one of America's allies (little Finland) have repudiated their obligations in whole or in part. It is conceded to the pass that we are justified in holding up Soviet Russia as an example of financial integrity to the defaulting and repudiating European nations that borrowed our billions."

Possibility that recognition may come soon is emphasized by the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, pointing out that "ROSSETT is studying the subject." The LEVINGTON LEADER advises: "Certainly there should be a thorough discussion of points of difference between the two countries. Some arrangement about the payment of debts should be made, some clear understanding should be had about the use of Soviet propaganda in America, and some American properties which have been confiscated should be restored to

South American Countries Jump At Trade Chance

State Department Sets Up Machinery To Speed Up Negotiations

Argentine And Colombia Interested, Sweden And Portugal Also Lined Up

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Encouraged by the quick response of the South American republics of Argentina and Colombia to President Roosevelt's proposal for the opening of trade negotiations, the state department moved to set up machinery by which the negotiations can be rushed through to successful conclusion.

An advisory board is to be established within the state department to facilitate negotiations with the two South American Republics as well as with other nations with whom it is intended to seek improved trade relations, especially on the western hemisphere.

Handle Questions
This board, composed of state, commerce and agricultural department experts as well as a representative from the tariff commission, will handle questions which arise in the course of the negotiations. The board will make a study of the various questions and report to the secretary of state or, in his absence, the under secretary.

Five countries now have been formally approached by this government on the question of inaugurating immediate negotiations for the development of trade relations. Three of these countries are South American republics, Brazil being the one which has not replied as yet to the president's suggestion. This is in line with the president's decision to concentrate on the development of commercial relations with the nations of the American continent.

Sweden And Portugal
The two European countries approached are Sweden and Portugal. They were picked out because they have products, such as special steel in the case of Sweden, which are needed in this country and do not interfere with American products of the same nature.

Several of the South American nations, particularly Uruguay have been quick to inform the state department informally that they would like to be included in the list of nations with whom trade negotiations will be started.

Jump At Chance
These nations generally have jumped at the idea of a Pan-American economic alliance. The Argentine foreign minister, in reply to the president's suggestion, said his government welcomed the invitation with the greatest cordiality. A similar reply was received from Colombia.

The movement to develop close economic union among the nations of this continent will be launched on a more extensive scale as soon as the American delegation returns from the world economic conference in London and more experts are available.

"More Arrests And Fewer Warnings" For Motorists Of State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 17.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today ordered the state highway patrol to "make more arrests and give fewer warnings" in an effort to stem the tide of increasing automobile accidents. He attributed a greater part of the increased accidents to "reckless driving and unwarranted speed."

"Hereafter," said the governor, "there will be fewer warnings and more arrests. I have so instructed the state highway patrol. The order is effective at once."

Accidents reported for the first six months of the current year totaled 20,382, he revealed, an increase of seven per cent over the same period last year. One fatality occurred in every 23 accidents reported.

Castle Motor Co. Place Is Entered

Combination Of Safe Is Broken Off By Robbers While In The Place

Police authorities were advised Sunday morning about 10:30 o'clock that the place of business of the Castle Motor Company, East Washington street, had been entered.

One dollar in money and $3 worth of stamps were found missing. The robbers overlooked $60. They had knocked off the combination of the safe and ransacked the office in the search for valuables but got little for their trouble.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

ARTHUR J. NEU, champion fly-caster, says:

"Dry-fly fishing is a delicate art that takes the best a man's got in steadiness of hand and eye. To win the championship in accuracy at casting a dry fly, I had to have healthy nerves. And yet I smoke steadily—all I want to—without disturbing my nerves. That's because I prefer Camels. There is no question but that they are milder. And their rich, inviting flavor seems to say, 'Have another.'"

Turn to Camels. Like Mr. Neu you will find that Camels are milder...that their flavor suits your taste...that steady smoking never jangles your nerves. So begin today!

"Trade with Russia does not necessarily involve the question of recognition of that country," thinks the CLEVELAND NEWS, with the advice: "America should not spurn the trade at this critical time, regardless of what we may think of the present Russian government. The nations arguing at London are due to awaken soon to the opportunity the former land of the Czar's offers, if they have not already done so. America, badly needing this foreign trade, could by intelligent action secure the bulk of it."

Observing the sympathetic attitude of the American government, the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN offers the comment: "The American Foundation, which has been a persistent pleader and worker for American participation in the World Court, announces a committee 'to study the relations between the United States and Soviet Russia.' Assurance is given that 'the committee will follow whatever lines of inquiry are indicated in order to obtain a comprehensive and unbiased view of the whole situation. The membership of the committee is representatives and gives the movement prestige. While the committee is delegated to make an 'inquiry' there is a warrant for inference that the Foundation is on its way to the advocacy of Soviet recognition. Other happenings are conspiring toward this event."

Near Cloudburst Strikes Y Camp

Although a terrific downpour of near-cloudburst proportions beat down upon the buildings and tents at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon, General Secretary R. L. Meermans today reported that no damage had been done.

The entire Elliott's Mills vicinity felt the full force of the driving rain, according to reports reaching here.

At 4 o'clock yesterday the Camp Rentz boys attended a vesper service in Katy Did lodge, the camp's dining headquarters, to hear the Rev. George Knipple, pastor of the Emmanuel Evangelical church of this city, preach. Griff Thomas led the singing. Nearly 40 or 50 parents were guests.

The Y. M. C. A. camp tomorrow begins its second week of the vacation season.

Linesville Paper Gives Pymatuning Picture

Transformation of the old Pymatuning swamp has reached the stage where its unique natural interest has become an engineering phenomenon, says the Linesville Herald. Digging down deep into the picturesque old morass, engineers have found the bed of the large lake which will form so important a part in the history of western Pennsylvania.

Streams of this section will play a most important part in the development of this artificial body of water. They are more than mere currents of descending water. Ideas float along their surface, ideas which culminated into dams and embankments that will make it possible to store immense quantities of water and also to provide a game preserve and a place of recreation for the hosts of people of this and adjacent states.

The Pymatuning will be a source of state pride and delight, a never-ending theme of song and story. Within its depths will be treasured golden memories. Conserved animals and natural life will make the lake and its shores a place attractive to many. The improvement of its natural beauty will be beyond all first expectations.

A friend of the Herald has traced this undertaking back to a great glacier, creeping like some pre-historic monster from the north, down over a source of the Ohio river to smooth out the natural bed of the Pymatuning lake.

And now, apparently eager to prove its new-found strength, the stream draining 150 square miles of countryside rush toward a mammoth dam to try their strength and be eventually whipped as the dash against stone walls and pile up into the sparkling waves of the Pymatuning. History hangs on the crystal threads that wind toward the big dam.

South of Linesville it is but a matter of a thousand feet to the location of the north shore. Work has been started on the fill for the Pennsylvania tracks, the Linesville-Espyville road and the upper dam which will control the water in that part of the lake to the east and south of Linesville. Locks at the Espyville-Andover division will control the water to the west and south of Linesville, making three separate sections of this large body of water and solving the problem of the shore line and the keeping of water at as near as possible a constant level.

The Linesville-Espyville fill and dam will give Linesville its section of the lake controlled from a point just south of the borough line. That part of the lake will be held in reserve and the water not used until absolutely necessary. About that portion of the lake, too, will be the major part of the proposed game preserve and all indications point to the fact that it will be one of the best and most attractive spots.

The machinery is being unloaded to start moving great mounds of dirt for the local dam, bridges and road. To the north of this big job can be seen the bluff above the bed of the lake, where among hundreds of trees are the homes of the people of this place.

All about the shores of the lake the work of improvement is going steadily on. Crews of men have finished setting out several hundred thousand trees. Now they are at work clearing up the shore line, cutting down worthless trees, trimming orchards and making this natural park an attractive and pleasant place.

Linesville Park on the lake will be just south of the borough limits on the new Linesville-Espyville highway.

Work at Espyville is progressing. The immense fill necessary for a highway through the lake will be completed this fall. Rip-rap is now

MARY E. BRAHAM
WEDS J. ELLIS BELL

Saturday at 4 o'clock a beautiful wedding was solemnized in the home of R. R. Brahm, Market street, New Wilmington, when Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brahm, became the bride of J. Ellis Bell. Dr. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the Newshannock United Presbyterian church of New Wilmington, performed the ring ceremony before an improvised altar of ferns and summer flowers in the living room of the home.

The bride, who was handsomely attired in a form-fitting ivory satin gown, with long train, was given in marriage by her father. Her long veil was held in place by a cap of orange blossoms. She was attended by Mary Smith as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Alice Bell, Gertrude Riddle, Elizabeth McKnight and Helen Cooper, who formed a pretty picture in their pale blue chiffon gowns. Lauren Jewell served as best man in Cleveland, O.

A wedding supper with places arranged for sixty, supplemented the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Bell left for a wedding trip and will be at home in Ellwood City upon their return.

Klondike Kate Gets "Her Man"

Klondike Kate Loved Silently By Man For 33 Years, Becomes His Bride

CULMINATION OF ROMANCE TEARFUL

(International News Service)
VANCOUVER, B. C., July 17.—Klondike Kate was on her honeymoon today with a man who lost his heart to her 33 years ago when she was "the sweetheart of the Yukon," a dazlingly beautiful dance hall girl and actress.

Klondike Kate (Mrs. Kate Rockwell), 53, and John Matson, 69, her silent suitor for more than a quarter of a century, were married quietly here by their friend, the Rev. George Pringle, one-time "sky pilot of the Yukon."

Many old "sourdoughs" of the golden days of the glittering Yukon laughed and cried happily as they saw the culmination of a secret romance that started in an Alaskan dance hall in December, 1900, when Matson, discoverer of fabulously rich Matson Creek in the famous gold rush of '98, saw and fell in love with beautiful Kate.

Romance Revived.
At that time, Matson was "to shy" to ask her hand in marriage, but the memory of her always was kept fresh in his heart, he said.

Four years ago Kate's name appeared in the newspapers when she appeared at a witness in the Alexander Pantages case at Los Angeles. (It was Kate who was credited with giving Pantages, now wealthy, his start in the theatrical world.)

A correspondence started then,

Frank Is Candidate For District Attorney

Announces Candidacy For County Office, At September Primary

HARRY H. FRANK

Attorney Harry H. Frank today announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of District Attorney of Lawrence County.

Attorney Frank has been a resident of New Castle since his birth, and now resides at 311 E. Lincoln Avenue. He is the son of the late David Frank, pioneer grocery merchant of New Castle. After attending Geneva College, Mr. Frank received his legal training at the University of Pittsburgh Law School. Since 1929 he has been actively engaged in the general practice of the law and in the trial of cases, both civil and criminal, being associated with the office of Matthews & Jamison. He has been admitted and qualified to practice law before the Lawrence County Courts, the Superior and Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and the United States District Court.

During the past four years Attorney Frank has on a number of occasions acted as Assistant District Attorney, and in his capacity as Assistant, he has represented the Commonwealth in the trial of many important cases. This experience as Assistant District Attorney gives him a knowledge of the office so as to make him well qualified.

In announcing his candidacy to the voters of Lawrence County, Attorney Frank says:

"It is with a deep sense of responsibility that I announce my candidacy for the office of District Attorney of Lawrence County. I realize that it will be impossible for me to meet personally with every voter in this County as I feel I should like to do, so I desire at this time to speak so simply and so plainly that every man and woman in Lawrence County who may read my words cannot misunderstand the program under which I seek their support.

"The paramount duty of the District Attorney is to enforce the law, for upon the law and its faithful enforcement depend all the interests of the people. There shall be but one unwavering desire on my part as District Attorney, namely, to lay the facts before the tribunal who is to judge them; to treat all with judicial fairness. As District Attorney I would represent the public interests which can never be promoted by the conviction of the innocent or the acquittal of the guilty. My object shall be, simply, equal and impartial justice.

"I pledge myself to a program of efficiency and economy in conducting the office of District Attorney. Lower expenditures mean lower taxes. This must be done in conducting this office. This can be done. I will not place upon the taxpayers the added burden and cost of a permanent Assistant. I shall devote my time in seeing that the cases are economically investigated, prepared and efficiently presented for trial in an office economically managed.

"I rest my cases on the just discernment of the citizens of this County. Upon my conduct as a practicing and trial lawyer in the past, upon my experience as Assistant District Attorney, and upon the opinions of the members of the Lawrence County Bar as to the propriety of my election, I am willing to rest my candidacy with the assurance that if elected, the approval of the citizenry of Lawrence County will be recognized by me as a warrant, and pledge to perform the duties of the office with fidelity."

SAYS DRY FORCES TO MAKE BATTLE FOR STATE

D. Glenn Moore Visitor To City

One Of 15 Dry Delegates Named For State Tells Of Dry Plans

SAYS DRY VOTERS WILL BE IN FRAY

Regardless of what the outcome may appear to be in Pennsylvania, the drys expect to wage a determined fight in the matter of the repeal of the 18th amendment, according to Hon. D. Glenn Moore of Washington, Pa., one of the 15 delegates named by the drys in this state. "It is a matter of principle," said Mr. Moore. "After fighting the dry cause for all these years we certainly are not going to desert our cause when it is under attack by its enemies. We believe the 18th amendment to be a good thing for this nation. Even with the halfhearted enforcement it has been given, we believe that it has justified itself. Here in Pennsylvania there are hundreds of thousands of voters who have the right to be heard in the November election when this state decides what it will do in the matter of repeal."

Political Pressure Used
"The result thus far in the roll call of states has not been very satisfying to the drys. Due to wet propaganda, dissatisfaction among the people and an intensive drive by men high in the present national administration, several states have voted for repeal that were formerly dry. Political pressure has been used to force a result in an issue that is entirely moral and economic in its nature."

Mr. Moore served for many years in the Pennsylvania General Assembly from his home county of Washington and was prominent in battles for better government. As chairman of the elections committee in 1931 he waged a fight for election laws that would further safeguard the rights of the honest citizen. He led the fight for the optional city manager plan for cities in Pennsylvania, and was the chairman of the house committee on investigation of the utilities and the public service commission. He is the editor of the Washington, Pa. Observer in private life, having left the ministry of the United Presbyterian church to enter newspaper work some years ago.

ZELIENOPLE ROUTE TO ELLWOOD CLOSED

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., July 17.—The Ellwood City-Zelienople road, Route 288, has been closed to traffic and a detour established for the entire distance. Work of improving the road from the Zelienople line to the bridge has begun and will be completed as soon as possible.

The road was closed for some time while the bridge itself was repaired; then it was thrown open for about a week while grading was done on the lower end of the part to be improved. Now the entire route has again been closed.

Pouring of concrete will begin in the near future.

BARN AND STOCK OF HAY DESTROYED

Fire completely destroyed a barn on the Walter Shantz farm at Prospect, carrying with it in flames equipment and harvested hay.

The cause of the fire was not determined, but it was thought possible a tramp spending last night in an upper loft may have left a burning cigarette behind him. No estimate of the loss is given.

Shantz, farmhand and neighbors succeeded in leading cattle and horses from the burning building and saved most of machinery stored there, but a windmill, a wagon and three loads of hay went up in flames.

THESE MEN ALSO HELPED WITH HAY

Several names were by mistake omitted when the list of friends who helped Frank Aiken of Shenango township with his hay crop last week was printed in The News. They are Rev. C. G. Johnson, Ed Bartsch, Pat Farrell, Carl Stickle and Henry Wellhausen.

Eleven Dead In Auto Accidents Over Week-End

More Than Three Score Injured In Series Of Crashes Throughout State

FIREMAN MEETS DEATH IN CRASH

(International News Service)
A sharp increase, in both fatalities and injuries, was revealed today in an International News Service tabulation of week-end traffic crashes in Pennsylvania.

At least 11 persons were killed, and more than three score were hurt, several critically, during the 48-hour week-end period. Included in the death list was a three-months-old infant girl, June McClure, fatally injured when two automobiles crashed head-on just outside of Williamsport during a heavy thunderstorm last night.

Fireman Killed.
In another spectacular accident, Irving Boyer, 38, driver of a Danville fire truck, was killed and three comrades were hurt when the truck got out of control and dashed down an incline while the firefighters were returning from a "field day" at Turbotville.

A list of the accidents follows:

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.
SLIPPERY ROCK UNION

The Slippery Rock W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Kildoo for an all-day meeting Thursday, July 13.

A picnic dinner served at noon to 70 persons was a pleasing feature of the day. Mrs. Kildoo was assisted in serving by the following committee: Mrs. Nancy Blair, Mrs. Hazel McCracken, Mrs. Etta Young, Mrs. Anna McCracken, Mrs. Bertha White, Mrs. Mary Hunt, Mrs. Pearl McCracken and Jessie Kildoo.

Special guests were Mrs. Harold Sloan of Linesville, Miss Elsie Baynham of Evanston, Ill.; Miss Margaret Walker of Pukui, Mrs. John Baynham, Mrs. J. B. McClaren, Mrs. Wilkin, Mrs. Ida Mae Allison and Mrs. Caroline Hunt of New Castle and Mrs. Stanley Rhodes of San Diego, Calif.

In the afternoon the meeting was called to order with Mrs. J. A. Boak, president of the union, presiding. After singing "Some Glad Day" prayer was led by Miss Walker.

After the devotionals a short program was rendered by the following children: music, Raymond McCracken; recitations by Dorothy Jean Kildoo, Mary Lou Kildoo, Hazel White, Jessie White, Robert McClymonds and Boyd Houk; song by Ada Wright.

The next on the program were short talks by Miss Walker, president of Lawrence county W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Wilkin, vice president; Mrs. McClaren, treasurer, and Mrs. Allison, corresponding secretary.

The address by Mrs. Harold Sloan, the guest speaker, was very interesting and helpful. She gave a report from the national W. C. T. U. convention held at Milwaukee, Wis., which she attended recently. She said someone asked if the women at the national convention were discouraged at the prohibition outlook. She said they were concerned, but not discouraged.

Mrs. Shaw then spoke of those who had been members of the Slippery Rock W. C. T. U. during the first years after its organization. Mrs. Caroline Hunt of New Castle is the only one of those now living.

After the close of the meeting a period of sports for the children was conducted by Mrs. Helen Kildoo and Mrs. Nancy Blair. Those winning prizes in the races were Hazel White, Mary Lou Kildoo and Raymond McCracken.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Etta Young, with Mrs. Mary Young leader, Tuesday Aug. 8. At this meeting will be the election of officers for the coming year.

Hold Vagrant In New Jersey For Killing Of Man

Another Seriously Wounded As Vagrant Fires While Fleeing Policeman

NEW JERSEY MOB MAKES THREATS

(International News Service)

OCEAN CITY, N. J., July 17.—A charge of murder today was lodged against John Smith, 57-year-old vagrant, following the death of a young law student whom he shot during a chase on Saturday.

Smith is believed to be one of 19 inmates who shot their way out of the state reformatory at Granite, Okla., some time ago.

The student, Lawrence Imbest, 24, employed as a letter carrier here for the summer, died in a hospital. A second victim, Maurice Johnson, Jr., a mail clerk, who was shot under the heart, still is in critical condition. Both were shot as they grappled with the gunman, who was fleeing from a policeman.

Smith, slightly wounded by a police bullet, dropped his gun and submitted to arrest.

As police communicated with authorities in Oklahoma and in Washington, D. C., in an attempt to establish the identity of the gunman, a crowd gathered about the Ocean City jail, crying "lynch him" and "string him up."

To avert mob violence the gunman was taken secretly from the jail here to the jail at Cape May court house.

The danger is that we'll get the habit, and then every time the red light holds us up we'll elevate our hands.

Arrest Liuska At Bessemer

Four Men To Be Given Hearing Friday By Squire Cheney

Aucel Liuska, 32, of Bessemer, will be given a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct, Friday, by Squire Cheney at Bessemer. It was reported today by State Police. Liuska was placed under arrest by State Trooper Paul Engle at Bessemer.

According to State Policeman Hughmanick, officer in charge, three other men had been arrested by Police Chief Archie Shoup at Bessemer some time ago on charges of disorderly conduct, libel and violating the National Firearms act.

When they appeared for a hearing, which was postponed until next Friday, it is said that Liuska made remarks which the State police did believe appropriate and Trooper Engle placed him under arrest.

The men who had been arrested on the charges of libel, disorderly conduct and violating the National Firearms act, according to Hughmanick are Dominick Ezzo, Girard, O., Henry Mack, Bessemer, and Charles Griffin, Youngstown.

All the men are at liberty on bail pending a hearing.

Kidnapers Still Hold O'Connell

State Police Are Investigating Albany Kidnaping Case Vigorously

(International News Service)
ALBANY, July 17.—While the family of the kidnaped John J. O'Connell, Jr., today awaited the long anticipated "break" which would result in the recovery of the missing youth, State police plugged ahead with their investigation with more vigor than generally had been surmised.

A well-informed state official told International News Service it was not true that the authorities were "laying off" the case because Dan and Ed O'Connell, politically powerful uncles of the victim, preferred to play a "lone hand" in dealing with the kidnapers.

Cries When He Passes Test

Peculiar Incidents Occur During Motor Driving Tests

HOLD EXAMINATIONS HERE TUESDAY

State Highway patrolmen in charge of Corporal L. C. Hanks will examine prospective operators of motor vehicles Tuesday in Sampson Street. At least two score persons with learners permits are expected to take examinations which are scheduled to start at 10 a. m. and end at 3 p. m.

The list of candidates during the past several tests has been unusually large. However, the large list does not result in a let-down in the examination.

Not so long ago an aged gentleman purchased a new automobile and upon his first examination he failed to pass but was successful in his second test.

The gentleman was so pleased with having passed the examination that he cried for joy, it is reported. Another incident that turned up recently was when an aged gentleman took a daughter to the testing station where she was to go through the examination.

The highway patrolman in charge noticed that the gentleman had difficulty reading and asked him to read the chart on the wall.

The man could not do so without difficulty and the highway patrolman found out that the man wore other spectacles when he operated a car.

Expends Nervous Energy

He was told to wear them when he operated the car as the highway patrolman did not believe the gentleman's vision good enough with the spectacles he was wearing.

A young lady, of a nervous disposition, recently visited the station to take the test. She left some of her cards in the auto. She made extra trips to the machine to obtain them.

Finally when she stepped up to read the chart by which the patrolmen find out how good prospects vision is, she was almost out of breath.

The patrolman told her to rest until she recovered. However, she had worked herself into such a nervous condition she failed to pass and will receive another test soon.

The patrolmen are courteous to those who take the examination but give a strict examination.

Queer Antics By Storms On Sunday

Motorists Report Unusual Storm Conditions In Nearby Sections

Motorists of the city who were in adjoining counties on Sunday report some queer antics upon the part of the rain storm that barely touched Lawrence County.

In Crawford County, near Hartstown, the storm was one of the most severe seen in years. A driving, torrential rain, was accompanied by a terrific hail that drove motorists off the roadway and forced them to seek shelter for their cars under garage canopies and under trees.

The hail was not large but it dropped with a velocity that promised damage to car tops and sides. In a few moments the roadways were white with the hail and the scene looked like an early winter one. Some damage was occasioned by farmers with standing crops.

Coming out of Hartstown towards New Castle, motorists found that the storm had not touched the area from there almost into Greenville, but at Greenville found evidences of hail in a checkerboard effect, with New Castle being one of the dry squares, or nearly so.

Hartstown had a heavy rain early in the afternoon, so heavy that the roads around the Jordan Game farm were soon mud. Near Sandy Lake the storm had cut across that country in a pathway that soaked the farms in the path and left dry others just outside of it.

It was a weird storm and as usual with rain this summer, missed New Castle almost entirely.

New Kittanning Improvement Is Open To Public

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., July 17.—Eliminating the crossing over the Pittsburgh and Shawmut tracks, a new western approach to the Kittanning bridge over the Allegheny river was thrown open to traffic Saturday without formal ceremony.

The $200,000 improvement eliminates the West Kittanning hill on routes 28 and 422, which in the past few years has claimed a score of lives.

New Enthusiasm In Stock Market

Stocks Run Up 1 To 8 Points On Wave Of New Interest In Opening Market

STEEL STOCKS

QUITE BUOYANT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 17.—A new outburst of speculative enthusiasm swept over the stock market today and sent leading issues up 1 to more than 8 points in heavy dealings.

There was little in the news to explain the rush of buying which poured into the market from the opening. The dollar was quiet and firm against foreign currencies. Commodities were strong while bonds were little better than steady.

The demand for the liquor issues was unabated as forecasts were freely made that Alabama would vote for repeal tomorrow.

Close behind were the farm stocks in a belated recognition of the extent of the recent rise in agricultural productions. Case Threshing was the star, running well above 100.

The steels were buoyant on the filing of the industry's code and the 15 per cent wage boost. Aviation issues staged another "celebration" on the successful arrival of the Italian fliers in Chicago while the coppers and silvers were up sharply despite lower prices for the white metal.

The rails were better in sympathy with the rest of the list but continued to display sluggishness.

Oils and utilities were firm but gains were small while the packing shares quieted down. Merchandising shares were higher, particularly the chain store issues.

Employment And Payroll Increases Reported In New England States

Lumber Industry Has More Unfilled Orders, Wages Are Being Boosted

(International News Service)

BOSTON, July 17.—Employment and payroll earnings increased in Massachusetts manufacturing establishments in June over May—something unusual for these months, June generally showing a decrease over May.

Commissioner Edwin S. Smith of the State Labor and Industries Department reported today that reports from 1,140 manufacturing establishments showed increases in June as compared with May of 7.5 per cent in the number of wage earners employed and 11.3 in the total amount of the weekly payrolls.

Only the boot and shoe industry showed decreases and these were stated to be largely of a seasonal nature. Exceptionally large gains occurred both in employment and in amount paid in wages in the cotton goods industry, and in the woolen and worsted goods industry.

There were marked increases in the manufacture of electrical machinery, apparatus and supplies and in the manufacture of foundry and machine shoe products.

Large payroll gains were noted in Fall River, New Bedford and other textile cities, Springfield and Worcester. In Lynn the seasonal decrease in the shoe industry was offset by gains in other industries.

Coat Outlook Good

Del Monte, Cal., July 17.—The board of directors of the California state Chamber of Commerce today reviewed an optimistic report concerning business conditions and crop outlooks.

Sales in department stores for June were well above the levels of the first four months this year, Joseph R. Knowland, chairman of the research committee, said.

Factory employment, the report said, increased 4.2 per cent from May to June, whereas normally a seasonal increase of only two per cent is expected.

Bank debits of the 14 principal cities in the state during June aggregated 9.7 per cent higher than in May and 0.5 per cent higher than the level of June last year.

Wages Boosted

Denver, July 17.—Additional wage increases, marked advance in railroad car loadings, additional copper mine employment and added activity in all mining sections characterized the continued improvement in business conditions in the Rocky Mountain region during the past week.

Wholesale and retail circles reported gains.

The sugar beet industry in Colorado will benefit materially from a slash in railroad freight rates authorized yesterday by the interstate commerce commission.

Lumber Increases

Seattle, Wash., July 17.—The unfilled order file for lumber, basic Washington industry, still grows in size, today standing at 504,126,000 board feet, an increase of 10,800,000 over last week and amounting to 48.95 per cent of the total lumber in stock, the largest ratio since the summer of 1929.

Wages generally were increased the first week of this month and another and larger increase is allowed for in the proposed code now before the national industrial recovery administration.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company and the Grace Line announced that all scheduled sailings from now until September 1 are booked solid, and even one-way bookings are declined until it is certain the passenger can be returned at the time desired.

Former Pastor Conducts Service

Second Anniversary Of Dedication Of Epworth Church Is Observed Sunday

Dr. Samuel L. Maxwell occupied the pulpit of Epworth M. E. church Sunday night after an absence of nearly a year. The services marked the observation of the second birthday of the new church at the corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue and assisting Rev. J. A. Galbraith, pastor of the church, were Dr. Norris White, pastor of the First M. E., and Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E.

In his sermon Dr. Maxwell reminisced considerably of his pastorate here, six years in length, and of the work of building the new church, which was dedicated during his pastorate. A capacity crowd filled the auditorium to greet him, and following the sermon he and Mrs. Maxwell held a reception down at the altar. In the assignment of pastorates during the September conference of 1932, Dr. Maxwell was assigned to Oil City, where he is now the pastor of the church in which he was raised.

Fishing Becomes Hazardous Sport

Fishermen Bring Back Unusual Tale After Weighttown Encounter

Fishing in Weighttown Pond is rapidly becoming a hazardous sport, if the experience of Officer Cecil Suber and William J. Carlin are any criterion of the actions of the bass out there.

On Saturday Suber took Carlin out to the pond for a day's fishing and promised him some battles with bass that would make him forget any experience he had ever had before. It was.

Tossing in his line Carlin got a strike the first thing. For a while the bass played with the hook and the bobber kept moving up and down as though it was on a string.

Irritated no doubt because Carlin was using a plug and no bait, the bass rose to surface made a vicious stab at the bobber and got it in his mouth. Like all big fish it got away, but for a moment it looked as though the bass might decide to swallow the line and follow it up with a battle with the fisherman.
